a) Over the last week, I created a flow chart/concept map, created an ERD, and a mockup.
b) Next week I will improve my flow chart/concept map and ERD based on notes from my professor. I will also add a make payment section to my mockup and consider user experience in my layout.
c) My biggest issue this week has been trying to visualize user experience and intuit exactly what data and features I will need as well as what users might want from my web application.
